Extended Manufacturers' Declaration
For Machines (EG-MRL 2006/42/EG)

Herewith, the Manufacturer

DEUBLIN GmbH

declares that

DEUBLIN Rotating Unions

and

DEUBLIN Bearingless Unions

- Are not a functional machine or an uncompleted machine on its own in terms of Article 4(2) of the Directive 2006/42/EG and, for this reason, do not yet comply in every part with the relevant stipulations of this Directive;
- However, they do comply with the essential requirements for safety and health as stipulated in the Directive, which comprehends the interfaces described in the instruction manual, resp. the enclosed technical documentation;
- Are consistent with the relevant stipulations of the EG-Pressure Vessel-Directive 97/23/EG.

The parameters of the instruction manual have to be observed when mounting into the machine/mechanical equipment, resp. assembling with another machine/other machine. The start-up is prohibited until the declarative statement that the above-mentioned machines are functional after their completion on their own or – in the case of mounting in a mechanical equipment, resp. assembly with other machines into a machinery – in the framework of the machinery and do comply with the stipulations of the aforesaid Machine Directive.
